Arriving at Trójmiasto 2019

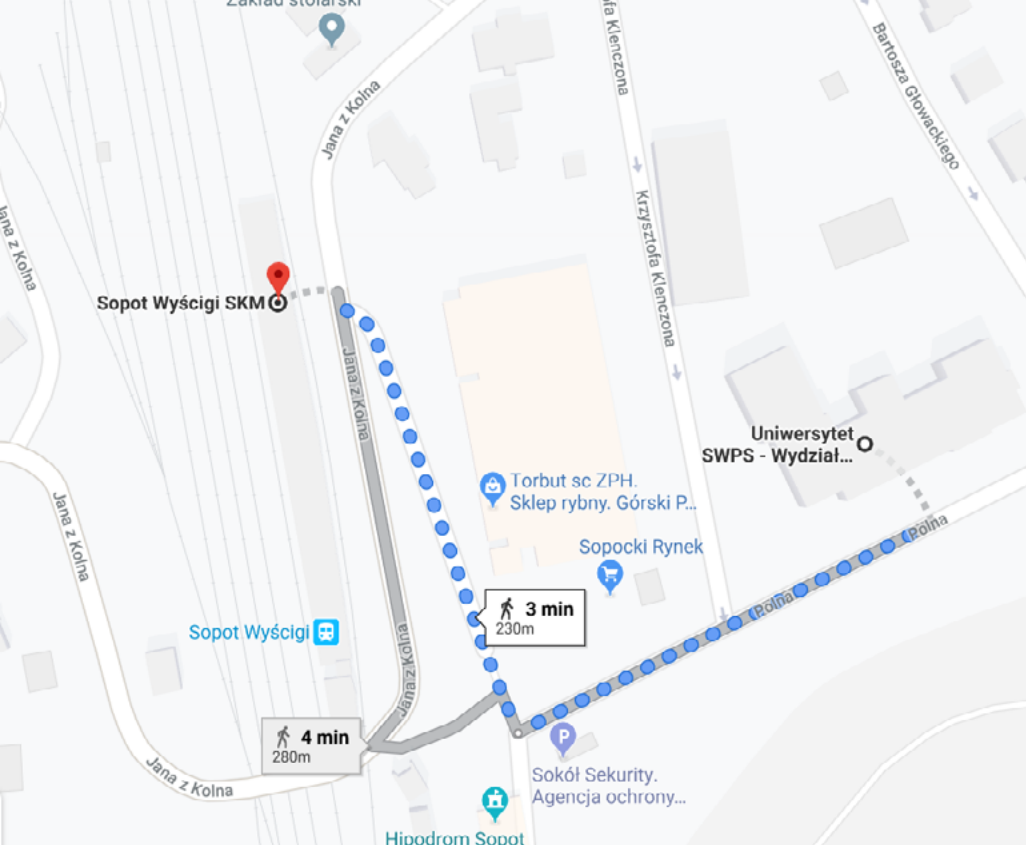

Trójmiasto consists of three cities – Gdańsk, Gdynia and Sopot, which are situated in the northern Pomerania region of Poland, just by the coast of the Baltic Sea.

By plane

Trójmiasto has its own airport in Gdańsk-Rębiechowo – Port Lotniczy im. Lecha Wałęsy (GDN), where you can take various WizzAir, RyanAir and Norwegian Airlines flights. From the airport you can take a city train (SKM) to the Team Building venue – the SKM stop is next to Terminal T-2 and is connected by designated tunnel for passengers. You can buy the train tickets at the stations and in the trains, and the station you are supposed to go to reach your accommodation is Sopot Wyścigi.

It is also possible to land at the airports in Warsaw-Modlin

(WMI) and Warsaw-Okęcie (WAW). From both airports, you can take Koleje Mazowieckie trains for about 20 PLN (~5 EUR) to go to Warsaw railway stations (Warszawa Zachodnia, Warszawa Centralna or Warszawa Wschodnia) and change for train or coach in order to reach Trójmiasto.

By bus or train

If you are willing to travel to Trójmiasto by bus or train, the most convenient option for you would be to arrive at Sopot Główny station, and then head and then head to the Team Building venue by SKM.

We recommend you to visit FlixBus website for bus tickets and Polskie Koleje Państwowe website for train tickets.

Public Transport

When in doubt, use <https://jakdojade.pl/trojmiasto/> or download the jakdojade app. It will provide you with the fastest and easiest way of moving around the city.
